The Shoalhaven Photographic Club photo of the month of May was a brilliant image by Terri Ford “Team horses ploughing”. This is a cracker of a photo, congratulations Terri, well deserved. A beautiful photograph.

June 14: Do you have your images ready for the assessment ICONS. The information offered is An Icon is a symbol or totem, representing something significant in a society or culture. It should be easily recognisable as a religious, cultural or national symbol if any country or society.

June 28: The following fortnight a further workshop from Matt Kaarma on PhotoShop. This workshop will be Tricks and Treats. Bring your paper and pen to jot down cheats on Photoshop. If you have a question or want some advise on Photoshop this is an open workshop. Also Bruce Williams has set some images [see attached Dropbox Link] that he would like you to re-work his images and discuss what was involved in the process. The Red Centre: There is a contingent of SPC members who are having the best time (I hope) taking many brilliant photographs as they travel in our red centre. Hopefully they will start posting on the SPC Facebook page Shoalhaven Photography Club , so we can be a part of their journey. Get onto to it guys, we are waiting for those images . Have a wonderful and safe journey.

The Lands Department have cleared out some of the very old equipment, namely two (2) manual film Pentax P30N cameras each with a Tokina Optical Co 28-200mm f/3.5-5.3 zoom on. They have a flash mount but no flash. Who would like a camera? Looking for a home for these two cameras, they would make a lovely talking points or even great door stops. Let me know if you want one of these cameras, either by email [Philomena.kaarma@gmail.com] or at the next SPC meeting.
